

Are you ready to get down to business?

The Business department at Jewell is an orchestrated balance between the depth and rigor of a professional discipline and the breadth and richness of a liberal arts education. The program is designed to develop the timeless attributes of a liberally educated person as a necessary complement to the timely cultivation of contemporary business and entrepreneurial leadership expertise.

Distinctives

Business majors at William Jewell College learn to combine critical thinking, oral and written communication skills with the entrepreneurial leadership, teambuilding, planning and problem solving skills essential for success in a dynamic, competitive marketplace.

Beyond the classroom, the Jewell Business Department provides experiential learning opportunities in which students apply what they have learned in “the real world.” These opportunities to develop and grow include:

- Mentorships – where students are paired with a professional in his or her field of interest and gain valuable career information;
- Internships – in which students can integrate business theory with practice and get course credit while working for profit or nonprofit companies;
- Partnerships – where students work as a member of a faculty-led team providing consulting services and expertise to area businesses and nonprofit organizations;
- ExCEL Fellows – A competitive, co-curricular program that provides opportunities to qualified students of all disciplines to build and manage their own businesses.
